ABOUT
LOS ANGELES MUSEUM OF THE HOLOCAUST

Los Angeles Museum of the Holocaust in Pan Pacific Park is the first survivor-founded Holocaust museum in the United States. Founded in 1961 by a group of local Holocaust survivors who wanted a permanent, safe home for their Holocaust-era photos and artifacts, the Museum moved to its permanent home in Pan Pacific Park in 2010. The Museum dedicates itself as a primary source institution, commemorating those who perished, honoring those who survived, and housing the precious artifacts that miraculously weathered the Holocaust era. The Museum provides free Holocaust education and opportunities for dialogue with Holocaust survivors to the public, including docent-led tours and Holocaust survivor talks on Sunday afternoons. The Museum is open seven days a week and admission is always free.

Alex Weissman

remembers

Rakhel Schwarz z"l

May 19, 2018

As she becomes a Bat Mitzvah, Alex Weissman has chosen to honor the memory of Rakhel Schwarz z"l, who perished in the Holocaust.

By remembering Rakhel Schwarz, Alex Weissman becomes the link between the Jewish past and future, making real "that memory is for a blessing."

One of our great teachers, Rabbi Nachman, taught, "with great joy comes sadness, with sadness comes great joy." Today as you celebrate Alex Weissman's Bat Mitzvah and her act of memory, you also contribute to a momentous observance of memory, sorry, joy and hope for the Jewish people.

ABOUT THE B'NAI MITZVAH: ACTS OF MEMORY PROGRAM

Los Angeles Museum of the Holocaust's B'nai Mitzvah: Acts of Memory project allows students preparing for Bar or Bat Mitzvah to remember a child who perished in the Holocaust, learn about the Holocaust and Jewish life before the Holocaust, and meet a Holocaust survivor.

The program includes the following options:

- Remember a child who perished in the Holocaust
- Pair with a Holocaust survivor or descendant of a survivor
- Customized Museum tour
- L'Dough V'Dough: Bake challah with Holocaust survivors
- Mitzvah project: volunteer at the Museum or raise money to fund transportation for underfunded schools to visit the Museum
